About Mike

With over 20 years of public accounting experience, Mike specializes in accounting, auditing, tax, and business advisory services—particularly within the construction industry. As a former partner in a public accounting firm, he has deep expertise in internal controls, cost allocation, tax strategy, and exit planning. Mike works closely with professionals across banking, insurance, and legal sectors to support his clients' financial goals.

Known for his cradle-to-grave advisory approach, he helps clients prepare for audits, implement tax-efficient strategies, and manage everything from cash flow to ESOP conversions. Mike's in-depth understanding of both financial reporting and tax implications makes him a trusted resource for construction businesses.

Outside of work, Mike enjoys golf, fitness, and time with family. He is also a member of ISPE, Mensa, The Knights of Columbus, The Elks, and The American Legion.
